7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words.

City College offers courses in three streams to nearly 3000 students each year so that a majority of them may find a subject suited to his/her aptitude and career objectives. There are fourteen subjects in which Honours courses are offered - Bengali, English, Sanskrit, Political Science, History, Philosophy, Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics, Economics, Botany, Zoology, Physiology and Commerce. Besides, general courses are offered in different streams comprising of B.A., B.Com. and B.Sc. (Physical Science and Biological Science). Thus, a student gets a wide choice of subjects, not to mention infrastructural support backed by a rich faculty. The gradual transformations in today's education system have necessitated various forms of adaptation and City College has been able to carry forward its rich heritage under the Brahma Samaj into the 21st century by embracing the use of more modern technologies including a smart board to aid in teaching and learning. Various committees of the college are actively engaged in the promotion of social welfare and the students are encouraged to be involved in all their initiatives. This has helped in inculcating a sense of moral and ethical development in the students' minds, which are important attributes of being responsible citizens.

The College has a rich library, containing multiple copies of text and reference books in all relevant areas of the subjects taught. The Library attempts to keep the users updated about new arrivals and career opportunities - both for further progress in higher education as well as for job placements. The College volunteered for NAAC accreditation in January 2007 and was assessed and accredited by the NAAC peer team in February 2007 and has been awarded B+ grade with a score of 78.5%. The college library received a special word of praise from the NAAC peer team, "efficient management of the library for its proper maintenance and use by the students and teachers". The various departments and their faculty members strive to promote an academic ambiance in the college premises and update their lesson plans with each new semester. Apart from classroom lectures, they also provide the students with opportunities to interact with other academic and non-academic experts from multiple disciplines from time to time, in the form of seminars, workshops and conferences.
