An international seminar on "RECENT TRENDS IN MACROMOLECULAR CHEMISTRY [RTMC - 2018]" was held on 10th January 2018. This seminar was organised by the Department of Chemistry, City College, and Professor Pradyut Ghosh from IACS delivered his lecture on ion sensing fluorophores in the first session. Professor Tien Yau Luh from National Taiwan University talked about the three-dimensional ladder like polymer, namely stromaphane, in the second session. Students and teachers from various institutes and colleges attended this seminar, and some also participated in the poster presentation. It was a nice, interactive, and fruitful seminar organized by the Department of Chemistry, City College.
